

Strengthen your community's safety

Today's firefighters face rapidly changing challenges in their work for the public. Preparing them to meet these demands is the mission of the Illinois Fire Service Institute. Your investment in our training programs, research and facilities will benefit your communities, as we continue to keep first responders prepared for fires, disasters and issues of homeland security.

I would like to make a tax-deductible donation to the following:

- IFSI Fund for general use 331624
- Ag Rescue Training fund 333765

(Please see other side)

Other giving options

Gifts in kind — IFSI's hands-on courses require constant repair and replacement of burn buildings and other props. Your donation of construction materials, vehicles and other equipment and supplies will help maintain a safe, up-to-date training environment.

To customize your investment in the University of Illinois Fire Service Institute training, education and research programs, contact Dennis Spice, Director of Corporate Relations and Development, at 217/898-6507 or by email at dspice@illinois.edu.

Your contribution is an investment that will help IFSI continue improving the safety and security of emergency responders and the citizens they serve.
